

The Oil Drilling Preparations Are Now Under Way

ALREADY DRILLING—FIRST OF TWO SHALLOW HOLES TO GET LINE ON STRUCTURE AND STRATA BEFORE LOCATING A DEFINITE SITE.

A start has already been made in the oil drilling operations which Mr. Redcliffe is carrying on in Redcliff and surrounding country.

This start is of a preliminary nature. A hole is now being drilled near the water tank for the purpose of getting a line on the structure. This will be drilled to a depth sufficient to gain this information. When this is done a hole of similar depth and for the same purpose will be drilled in the vicinity of the rolling mill. When these holes are drilled the structures and formations will be compared and with this information a site for oil drilling will then be decided upon, and operations will be commenced at once and will be pushed along as rapidly as experienced drillers and expert up-to-date machinery can do it.

The work now being done is of a preliminary nature and the engineers are taking every precaution in order to get away to a good start. The first hole is now down about 100 feet.

The British Press Backs Lord Byng

Are Unanimous He Acted For The Best Interests of Canada

Editorially discussing the constitutional situation in Canada, The London Times states specially that Lord Byng did not seek advice of Downing Street. "In the whole of this crisis," it says, "in the refusal of dissolution to the leader of one party and the granting of it to the leader of the other, the government general of the dominion appears to have acted, he was right in acting, solely on his personal judgment. He has made no attempt whatever to interfere with or influence his adviser. Any such attempt would, of course, have constituted a highly improper encroachment on his functions as the constitutional monarch."

As to the party conflict in Canada, itself over this question, The Times says it is difficult for those who are detached, to see where Lord Byng's action has deviated from the letter and spirit of constitutional law or the dictates of common sense.

The Sunday Times declares that it is incontestable that Lord Byng's decision in regard to the dissolution of the Canadian parliament was given in perfect impartiality between the two parties. "One thing we may take as certain," the Observer declares, "is that Lord Byng, whether rightly or wrongly, acted in a manner which is not difficult to see though but that of discharging with the most scrupulous care and impartiality his duty to the people of Canada."

Important Meeting At G.W.V. Sunday

Aims and Objects of Legion Will Be Explained And New Officers Elected

The Canadian Legion, British Empire Service League, is now an actual fact. This organization is to take the place of the G.W.V.A. and although some changes have been made, laws, rules and regulations of the new organization will function very much along the same lines as the G.W.V.A. did. There some details to be worked out and in this connection local branches can assist materially by setting their machinery in order so as to comply with the new regulations.

For this purpose a meeting of all services and ex-services men as well as those who have shown an interest in G.W.V.A. work in the past is called to take place in the G.W.V.A. hall here on Sunday afternoon next at 7 o'clock.

It is especially desired by the local officers that there be a full attendance at this meeting as the aims and objects of the Legion will be explained and new officers elected.

Meighen To Implement All New Legislation

All Tax Cuts Will Be Continued Says Drayton

The government proposes to implement all legislation passed this session by both house of parliament, which failed to obtain royal assent before dissolution, insofar as it is possible to do under the law. Right Hon. Arthur Meighen, prime minister, made this claim.

Mr. Henry Drayton declared that the reduction in taxation passed by the commonsense this year would be made effective by the new administration.

BLAZE RADIOS FOR THE DANUBE FLOODS

Declaring that the present serious rainy weather and disastrous floods throughout the Danube country were traceable to outdoor wireless aerials which created lightning storms a delegation of Hungary farmers called on the mayor of Szekesfehervar, in demand removal of all such aerials in the agricultural districts. Fearing to incur indignation from the farmers who ridiculed the theory, the mayor started in to work the aerials themselves until they were stopped by the police.

SWIMMING POOL IS TEMPORARILY CLOSED

Children Want To Know Where Funds Are Coming From

Young people in town were greatly disappointed on arriving at the swimming pool last Tuesday morning to find it closed. The pool was closed on the authority of the chairman in order that some provision be made for financing it during the season. Mr. Hall has called several meetings for the purpose of arranging plans to finance the pool but few were sufficiently interested to attend them. Consequently nothing was done.

Those who have been putting the pool were making no attempt to help and many older people were using the pool and paying no admission or securing season tickets. The pool was closed in order to call a show down and find out just exactly where the money stood. It was thought poor business to go on pulling up expense with no visible sign of meeting it. There will be a general meeting held on Friday evening of this week when the whole question will be gone into. All who are interested in keeping the pool going should attend this meeting.

Fun And Thrills Is Comedy Mixture

Johnny Hines Declares That People Want Thrills With Laughs—At The Casino Next

"If you want to make 'em laugh, the thrills will come in," says Johnny Hines, premiere comedian of the Casino, proceeds whom he starts to make a picture.

"The day the 'barber comedy' has passed," is his verdict. "At one time we were making pictures with 'barber' situations, such as the barber dress production. They were good, but, really, they were, at last, comedy, and now the 'barber' story premises are not content merely to laugh."

"They want thrills with the fun. They want to laugh and they want to be scared. It is the same time. That is why the making of film comedies is becoming a harder task day to day."

"Take the case of 'The Live Wire.' It is a picture which challenges a succession of laughs, but we had to change the picture to suit the times. In one scene, for example, I do a slide sixty-five feet down a tight wire in the circus sequence, and repeat it later during the scene when I am on the wire. And the audience says more about that experience, because the recreation is too painful. In another scene we drench an entire bathroom full of people with water. It wasn't pleasant for the actors, but it registers big on the screen."

"This picture was cancelled under 'The Live Wire' which bears out this contention."

GORDON MEMORIAL SUN. SCHOOL PICNIC

Was Held In Hargrave's Park on Wednesday of This Week

Gordon Memorial annual Sunday School picnic was held in Hargrave's Park, Melville Hall, on Wednesday afternoon. Our owners with their usual generosity placed their cars at the service of the school in sufficient numbers to convey members of the school and a goodly number of teachers, without any person making a second trip. The day was beautiful and the party was delightfully cool and shady. Every person came in picnic spirit having given due consideration before hand to picnic appetites and races kept interest keen until lunch time. The school in class groups threw grassy rocks and in practical application of riot act maintained the very best traditions of boys and girls on picnic day. The picnic was a success in every respect, thanks to car owners for conveying the party to and from the grounds. Also those who contributed to provide for prizes for the races to the mothers who served as only mothers can, to give the children a jolly good time.

"The American Venus" Novel Comedy-Special

Is Coming To The Casino Theatre On Monday Next

Paramount's magnificent screen entertainment, "The American Venus" which comes from the brain of the man who immortalized the charms of America's most beautiful girl, is something more than a de luxe musical picture.

It is an eye-dazzling spectacle, a gorgeous extravaganza, a glorified musical comedy, a picture of the times which lavishly and amusingly depicts the life, luxuries, settings, and rich and beautiful costumes are used to open the book, and every plot with a maximum of color, action, beauty and novelty.

The story by Townsend Martin, is based around a nation-wide search for the girl who resembles the most beautiful girl in America, a search which is handled by Esther Ralston, Lawrence Gray, and Sterling and Ray, who are known as "The American Venus" at the 1926 Broadway theatre at Atlantic City. And the surprising end of the picture is a real comedy. The picture is a real comedy, a picture of the times which lavishly and amusingly depicts the life, luxuries, settings, and rich and beautiful costumes are used to open the book, and every plot with a maximum of color, action, beauty and novelty.

Farmer Members Are Called For Caucus

Are Meeting In Edmonton Today At Request of Premier

All members of the legislature, newly elected and re-elected will be in Edmonton in response to a call from Premier J. E. Brownie, for a general caucus.

"Just a desire to have a get-together following the election," explained Premier Brownie.

It is thought that the problem of the E.D. & B.C. railway problem will come up for discussion at the caucus though the premier says there is nothing new in the situation. Whether or not the private members will have government operation of the system, under the provincial department of railways, is a question that will probably be threshed out.

To The Electors Of Redcliff

Ladies and Gentlemen:

Allow me to take this opportunity to thank you all for the splendid support given me at the polls on June 28th. I would also like to thank the men and women of Redcliff for the work they did in my behalf during the campaign and on election day in getting the voters out.

While I was not successful in winning out in the election, it is a source of great satisfaction to know that my supporters were shown in their candor and that we have nothing for which to be ashamed in the conduct of the campaign.

Again, thanking you, I am,

Yours sincerely,
J. J. HENDRICK

This is the first meeting preparatory for the approaching election. We have not heard of any names suggested as possible candidates, but Friends of G. M. British Envoy Is Coming To Canada

May Have Hearing On The Present Political Crisis

Lord Clarendon is sailing for Canada next Saturday on board the Empress of Scotland on an important official mission. He will be accompanied by his wife.

What the exact nature of the mission will be is something of a mystery, although it is believed Lord Clarendon will be engaged in important treaty settlement work.

It is generally believed, however, that his mission will deal with other important problems which recently arisen in the relations between the mother country and the Dominion, although it is made clear in official circles that Lord Byng acted solely upon his own responsibility in the matter of any specific instructions from Colonel Amery, and has recently made a statement to the effect that the secretary for overseas affairs.

Meanwhile, there is some talk of postponing the imperial conference, which is due to be held next October, owing to the Canadian political situation, but the British United Press is informed that the official decision on this point has yet been reached. It is thought by Dominion and home officials to touch with the situation that if Canada can get her election cleared away rapidly there is nothing to prevent the new premier from being present at the conference in October.

Prediction That Chicago Will Be Submerged

Scientist Says That Earth's Movement Is Causing Shore of Great Lakes to Sink.

"Chicago is being blamed today for stealing water from the Great Lakes. A future day will see that city not only in possession of all the water it needs, but more than it wants, for it will be submerged under Lake Michigan." This was a statement made by Professor Goodwin, of Toronto, in a lecture at Port William. He declared that facts of earth movement already known to science pointed out that the north shore of Lake Superior was gradually sinking while the south shore was sinking.

Canada was getting more land and the United States was losing land, corresponding amount, due to these earth movements. Within probably $5,000 years, the St. Lawrence waterway would be totally dried up and the waters of the Great Lakes would "flow south towards the Gulf of Mexico. Yards would pass over the present site of Chicago."

Largest Nursery Business

Largest Nursery Business in Western Canada Carried On at Estevan

What is claimed to be the largest nursery business in Western Canada has been developed at Estevan by a settler who came to Canada from Valley City, North Dakota. It is years ago and commenced on the bare prairie. His nurseries now cover over 700 acres of land, and in addition to supplying Saskatchewan demands, nursery stock is shipped in carload quantities to the United States. The success of this enterprise is attributed in part to good management and also largely to the demand of successful western farmers for fruit and shade trees which they find to be beautiful and improve their prairie farms. Known as the Prairie Nurseries, this firm has recently shipped a carload of evergreens to the United States, and as far as is known this is the first time that conifers have been exported from Western Canada.

Handshaking Is Hard Work

Prices of Water Net Only One to be Incorporated by

The decision to abandon the White House custom of introducing new handshaking was bound to be made sooner or later, for it had become a menace to the health of both the president and his wife. At the first meeting after the war President Harding shook 6,600 hands at the rate of 30 per minute. President Wilson stated he could get a glaze with skin flisters. The wife of President Cleveland found her right hand going deeper than her left as the result of much demonstrative handshaking, and took violent pains to reduce the disparity. Mrs. Harrison, after the first experience, evaded such demand by holding a fan in one hand and a bouquet in the other. We remember how the Prince of Wales was similarly incapacitated during his visit to Canada by the too hearty grip of welcome—London Daily Chronicle.

Handshaking comes to you as a result of caring it, not as a result of will it.

Tourists In Increasing Numbers Now Coming To Western Canada Are Offered Many Attractions

The mental picture of the Canadian west is a vision of a vast, open, unbroken expanse of land, where the tourist can view the scene from above. Winnipeg, the eastern gateway of the prairie, and have this range of vision sufficiently extended, as would be agreed on to the westward a vast, gently rolling, fertile plain, gradually rising to the foothills of the Rocky Mountains, over some hundred miles away. On the right, the northern edge of the prairie merges into a transition zone of mixed prairie and woodland, commonly called the park belt, and north of this, and stretching away indefinitely, is a belt of forest land, inter-spersed with lakes and waterways. In the extreme southwestern corner, the Rockies appear a stretch of ranching country. Fed by the melting snows and glaciers of the Rocky Mountains, the majestic Saskatchewan drains the whole plain and pours its twin waters into the inland sea of the Winnipeg lake, the heart of the continent, the Nelson River or the Hudson Bay. Through the prairie belt extend these transcontinental railways, with their numerous branches, crisscrossing in every direction and stretching out into the north country.

The most striking feature of the landscape viewed from above, is the vast checkerboard effect produced by the system of survey, which divides the whole country into blocks one mile square, by roadways running east-west and north-south. In these provinces the foundation of Canada is the greatest continuous area in the world laid out in astronomically based subdividing surveys.

Dealing with the territory by large: the prairie is the great wheat producer; the prairie and foothills contain about 10 per cent of the world's coal reserves; the southwest corner is the ranching country; the forest belt north of the prairie, and the chief seat of the lumbering industry, and the home of the fur-bearer; the Laurentian range across the north-east is now the scene of metalliferous mining development; and from the great rivers and lakes come the white-fish and sturgeon which supply the tables of the continent.

The prairie, which in fifty years has advanced from a Great Lone Land to be the empire's granary, whence the production of all kinds of grain has attained to the total of about one thousand million bushels a year, are naturally the centre of interest. In this area which has a population of over two million people, and the capital of the three provinces and other centres of distribution and manufacturing, the rapid rise of which has been the result of the past twenty-five years.

The attention of the explorer is drawn to the all-embracing and the vastness of the prairie, and the fact that, for the most part, the horizon by the tall grass, wherever the whole country appears to be an unbroken wilderness, but because of the constant bending to and from the landscape of heavily laden farm wagons and of a countless number of motor vehicles of every description. Automobiles are indeed everywhere for it is not hard to say that the west appears to have been created for the automobile and the automobile invented for the west.

The checkerboard-road system, which has done so much to assist in the rapid development of the country, is now appreciated by the visitor, for a glance at a map or a short run along any highway shows that it is what every driver desires to travel in, as it is as readily as he can take his way about the country, and his home town. He sees that if he proceeds, say west, he will within a mile come to a road running north and south, and that travelling on this road in either direction for a mile he will reach another good road parallel to the first. He need not ask questions, he simply starts his car, makes the necessary turnings and reaches his destination. It is almost impossible to over-estimate.

The tourist has before him one of the most fascinating landscapes imaginable. Whether he decides to travel by train or steamboat, automobile or canoe, whether his tastes incline to natural beauty, langour, camps, or hotels, he will find ample satisfaction for every wish. Hunting, fishing and visiting the many camps are all easily combined; and should he be a gambler he can drop his craft into the Saskatchewan or the Assiniboine and paddle over the fast-flowing rapids to Hudson Bay, or if he seeks a new thrill he can travel in comfortable motor streamers down the Mackenzie River to the land of the midnight sun and the Arctic Ocean.

Dentist Says City

Smoke Injures Teeth

Smoke From Soft Coal Interferes With Ultra Violet Rays From Sun - Progress made by its adventures along the nebulous trails of pure science has been formally charted for the year by the National Academy of Sciences.

The annual assembly of this little group of curious and thoughtful men, which recently and they have gone back to their remote fields of research after exchanging specimens of the foundation stones of future practical knowledge they have discovered in the last year.

Among them, as disclosed at the concluding session, are bits of fact about sound, the ultra violet rays and the adrenal glands. Dr. Weston A. Price, dental research worker, Cleveland, reported he had learned that smoke from the burning of soft coal by interfering with the ultra violet rays from the sun, was the reason that city children's teeth were more vulnerable to decay than those of their country cousins.

Beekeepers in Saskatchewan

Output of Honey Last Season Was Seventy-two Thousand Pounds - The average production per hive for the past two years at the University of Saskatchewan has been about 120 pounds of extracted honey, with an estimated value of 20 cents per pound.

Bees have been kept successfully, as far north as Debden on the Big River branch of the C.N.R. north of Prince Albert, at Nipawin, and at Eldorado, east of Tisdale. At one apiary north of Eldorado, as much as 150 tons of extracted honey have been harvested in a single season.

Altogether there are about nine hundred beekeepers in the province with an output of 72,000 pounds last season.

Hemp Growing

Two firms are interested this spring in increasing the acreage of hemp grown in Manitoba. The Manitoba Cigarette Company announces that it has made contracts with a large number of farmers to grow this product, guaranteeing from $12 to $15 per ton for hemp straw delivered at their nearest breaking mill.

It isn't always modesty that keeps people from telling the naked truth.

Faith In The Future Of Canada Supported By A Reference To Experience Of The United States

Saskatchewan Butter

Interest In Dairying Increasing With Farmers Throughout The Province - With interest in dairying increasing among farmers of every class, the creamery butter production in the province during April totalled over 1,000,000 pounds. This is an increase of 235,487 pounds, or a little better than 45 per cent, over the output a year ago.

In the first four months of this year, production totalled 4,115,000 pounds, or an increase of 24.9 per cent over the output during the corresponding period last year.

Four new creameries have been opened in the province this year, and five additional plants are now under way.

Seven women now hold flying certificates from the Royal Aero Club of Great Britain.

It is always interesting to read the views of the people of one country on economic conditions in our own, and particularly so when those views are of an optimistic and encouraging character. It is refreshing, therefore, to read a United States contemporary, a statement of faith in the future of Canada supported by reference to experiences which the United States itself underwent before it reached its present progressive and happy economic condition.

A member of the Canadian Parliament, writes the Detroit News, states that "Canada is a vast of the United States," reporting him as saying, "We are paying tribute to the United States to the extent of $100,000,000 a year, $200,000,000 of which we pay in imports and $100,000,000 on money, borrowed, on which the News comments editorially as follows:

"It constitutes vassalage, then the United States was the vassal of the rest of the world, chiefly Europe, for almost 100 years; for it was not until about 1850 that our exports began regularly to exceed our imports in value, and it was considerably after that date that we ceased to pay Europe huge dividends on borrowed capital."

"If Canada is spending $200,000,000 a year for American goods, it is a sign that elsewhere or else she is making the money to pay for them. She is farming, manufacturing, exporting, creating wealth; and part of this wealth she exchanges for American products. Why does she buy these goods? Because she is not self-sufficient. Would she really be making these goods for herself? Not unless she could make them more cheaply than she can buy them."

"If Canada is spending $100,000,000 a year for money borrowed from the United States, she is purchasing the same course we followed while we had immense undeveloped resources and small accumulations of capital. We borrowed money where we could get it, and paid high interest on it; but we put that money to very good use. If it comes to worry the worthy member of parliament, let him remember that the capital she has borrowed from the United States, she is following a successful example. She should be thankful, for by putting that money to productive work she will one day emerge from the state of 'vassalage' that seems to worry the worthy member of parliament."

One has but to cast an eye over the map of Canada—a vast territory with extraordinary possibilities—and think of what the people of the United States did to the United States, to see that any Canadian who is pessimistic about his country is well, to say the best, he is short of vision."

Sunflowers For Silage

The Effect of Sunflowers on the Following Crop

Sunflowers have gained considerable prominence as a silage crop during the past few years, and the large number of their hardiness which allows them a longer growing season than corn and makes them a more certain crop. They require less moisture than corn and make a good substitute for it in districts in which the summer season is comparatively short, the slight cold and the precipitation scanty. There has been some doubt, however, as to the effect of sunflowers on the succeeding crop, as little was known of their plant food requirements. In order to determine their effect on the following crop, the United States Department of Agriculture, located at the Northern, Saskatchewan, experimental station, and the results of the experiment, which were published in the two years of the experiment, showed that higher yields than when they followed sunflowers. The difference was considerably more striking when corn was used than when alfalfa was used, the latter yielding about 40 per cent more than when alfalfa was used.

Advantages Of Sweet Clover

Seventeen Reasons Showing the Advantages of This Crop (By Jas. D. McGregor, Glanworth Rock Farm, Brandon, Manitoba).

1. Sweet clover will grow on practically all soils in Western Canada.
2. It is more easily started than alfalfa or any other clover.
3. Makes good pasture and hay.
4. All kinds of stock soon learn to eat it.
5. Needs little seed in all sections, and needs easily saved.
6. Feeding value equal to alfalfa.
7. Starts early in spring, grows all summer and is late fall.
8. Does not lose taste and sheep like alfalfa.
9. A biennial legume—fits well in rotation.
10. Roots are soft, easily isolated, decay rapidly.
11. As green manure with all more than food than any other crop.
12. Will smother out nearly all weeds.
13. Will prepare heavy wet alkali and for other crops.
14. An excellent hay pasture, making white bloom.
15. Will grow where other clovers and alfalfa will not. (a) On low, wet, alkaline land. (b) On dry, open, sunny hills.
16. Alfalfa starts more easily than sweet clover, as the sweet clover roots are softer and more easily isolated.
17. Sweet clover is no longer an experiment. Grow it, use it. It is one of the best of all crops.

Insects Will For Weather

Scientists Say Moth Can Postpone Birthday For Years

Observations made by a British scientist have led to the belief that if the weather is bad the small egg moth can postpone its own birthday for years, months or years. The common egg of this type is ordinarily due to open in February but if the weather is inclement the birth is usually postponed for months or even years. Moths have been known to emerge, singly after being imprisoned eleven years.

Many Prizes For Alberta Corn Show

Will Be Held This Year At Medicine Hat - The provincial corn show for Alberta is to be held this year at Medicine Hat under the auspices of the Alberta Corn Growers' Association.

The show will include classes for the following types of corn—yellow and white flint, yellow and white dent, northwestern dent, sweet corn and popcorn. There will also be classes for showmen. In addition, each prize the directors hope to be able to secure several trophies as championship awards.

Vancouver Seeds In England

When many of the gardens in England come late bloom this year, millions of flowers from Canadian seeds will bloom among the plants of the Old Land, for England is turning to the warm climate and rich soil of Vancouver island for its supply of choice seeds.

Your Tomato Plants

Advice Is Given On How To Protect Tomatoes From Disease - The tomato plant is an exceptionally good feeder and, unless well supplied with plant food will grow feebly and become subject to disease. Sandy soil, well drained and with a plentiful application of well rotted barnyard manure ploughed in, is the best soil for tomato growing.

There are several diseases which cause considerable loss to tomato growers. One of the most important factors in the prevention of these diseases is proper sanitation, according to a bulletin on tomato diseases distributed by the Publication Branch, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa. Only strong, vigorous, healthy stock should be set out in the field. All weak, sickly plants should be destroyed as soon as noticed, because most of the fungus diseases, such as late blight, black rot, late blight, late blight, etc., are spread from plant to plant by means of wind, rain and insects. All diseased plant material should be destroyed so that the refuse from a crop will not be left to carry the disease over to another year.

Cutworms In The Garden

Poisoned Bait Is Recommended As A Means Of Control - Cutworms rank among the worst insect pests of garden and field crops. They are general feeders, attacking all kinds of garden plants, particularly when they are young and succulent in the early part of the season. As a rule, they cause to be troublesome after the end of June.

The largest group of industries in Manitoba, in number of establishments, is wood and paper products, of which there are 213 establishments, according to figures compiled by the Industrial Development Board of Manitoba, from the government industrial bureau. Next in order come vegetable products, with 130 establishments; chemical products, with 121; and textile products, with 82.

Fine British Types for Canada

The emigration of families from Great Britain to the Dominion is rapidly increasing. The 213 face and greatest arrangements under the 2,000 Families Scheme are inducing more to travel. Fifteen of these families located recently from Glasgow to Canada on the Canadian Pacific Railway Montreal, and in addition there were quite a number of other families who were going to try their luck in the Land of Promise. The above group is a good indication of the class of sturdy energetic young men that Canada wants and which Canada is certainly getting under the auspices of the British Immigration and Colonization Association.

THE PROVINCIAL ELECTION

THE result of the recent provincial general election shows beyond peradventure that the people of this province, especially those in the rural districts, have been well satisfied with the farmers' government of the past five years.

There is no doubt that a large percentage of the voters figured that the group government came into being at a time and under circumstances which made it very hard for them to make the best showing, and were quite willing that they should be given another opportunity under more favorable circumstances.

Assuming office in 1921, after sixteen years of Liberal rule, the farmers found the financial conditions of the province in a very unsatisfactory state, and they were obliged to assume office and carry on under an immense debt.

Besides this the farmers' men, almost without exception, were called to the legislative for the first time. They were untrained and inexperienced in the business of government, and for the first few years were laboring under a great handicap. The general impression was that under the circumstances, they were not doing too badly, and that while they may have been slow in action, they had never been accused of crookedness or deception.

Under these conditions it is quite evident that a large percentage of the voters were willing to give them another trial, feeling, no doubt, that the experience gained would place them in a better position to govern wisely and well for the next five years. That, in our opinion, is the reason the Brownlee government was returned to power with such a substantial majority.

With this new lease of life, the farmers' government will assume additional responsibilities, and because of the past training and experience its staunchest supporters will not condone its shortcomings and tardiness with the same spirit of tolerance which they did in the past. For this reason the newly elected government will be expected to make a much better showing in the future than they have in the past.

The result of the election was a big disappointment to both the old parties, the leaders of both of which were predicting wonderful gains throughout the whole province.

WELCOME NEWS

THE long looked for, expected and, in many cases, longed for dissolution of the federal house, has at last come about, and it happened with dramatic suddenness.

Conditions at the capital have been surrounded with such a certainty and consequent turmoil and confusion ever since the last parliament was called together, that leaders of thought all over the country were beginning to realize that such a state of affairs was retarding progress and development all over the Dominion and could not be tolerated much longer. It was, therefore, with a sigh of relief and a feeling of hope, that the people generally received the news of dissolution.

No pronounced has been the feeling of disapproval with conditions at Ottawa during the past six months, that leading politicians with no political affiliations have been demanding dissolution as the only remedy for this unsatisfactory state of affairs. In fact June issue, "Wilson's Monthly," a magazine edited by Sir John Willison, at one time managing editor of the Toronto "Globe," says:

"The country should demand an immediate dissolution of Parliament. It is intolerable that public policy should be dictated by the remnant of a party which was almost annihilated in the last general election. There can be no courage in industry or freedom in investment so long as Ontario, Quebec, and the eastern provinces are practically disfranchised and impotent in the House of Commons. No one challenges the right of Progressives to advocate the measures in which they believe, nor does one expect that Mr. Woodsworth and Mr. Heaps will lose any opportunity to impose their will upon the Government. It is a fact, however, that so long as this condition prevails at Ottawa there will be depression in industry, slackness in employment, and reluctance to embark upon new enterprises. No one believes that the agrarians of Saskatchewan express the convictions of Quebec, Ontario, British Columbia, or any of the western provinces. The fact stands, however, this group has the Government at its mercy and stands for an industrial policy which would ruin the industrial communities. No one more strongly than Mr. King has emphasized the dangers and difficulties of government by minorities without a dependable majority in Parliament, and day by day it becomes more apparent that under existing conditions the free will of the Canadian people cannot find expression in the House of Commons. There can be no relief save through a dissolution of Parliament and a general election. It is impossible to believe that the people would again refuse to give a decisive majority to one national party or the other. They just failed to deliver an effective judgment in October. The need for authoritative and responsible government at Ottawa is now so manifest that it is unlikely the country would pronounce another indecisive judgment."

During the election campaign we heard some criticism of the educational conditions in the province, and some suggestions for improvement. There was one thing happened right here in town during the recent departmental examinations which certainly should be drawn to the attention of the Department of Education and they should see to it that it should not be allowed to happen again. During the examinations here several pupils in the high school were compelled to remain in their room for six hours at one time and were not allowed out until during that whole six hours. They went to school at 9 a.m., took their lunch, and were not allowed to leave the room for a minute, from that time till three in the afternoon. After three o'clock they had nothing to do for the rest of the day. Surely some better arrangements than that could be arranged. Working under such conditions is not fair to the pupils.

It is the opinion of all, both townspeople and visitors, that Redcliff stampede and sports day was a pronounced success. This is but another evidence of what can be accomplished when men get together, decide on some line of action and stick to it together to the end. On this occasion, like everything else of a similar nature, new blood was brought into action, and talent, heretofore unknown, asserted itself. The outstanding character behind the stampede celebration was Nels Dacey, the president. It was his first experience in an affair of this kind in Redcliff and from his moment he accepted the position until everything was cleaned up at the finish, he was an enthusiastic energetic worker, with the happy knack of keeping everyone also in the same mood. In extending this praise to Mr. Dacey, we do not for a moment wish to detract anything from the members of the several committees, all of whom did their work thoroughly and well. Our town is also deeply indebted to the men from the surrounding country who gave liberally of their time and whose experience aided much in making the day the success it was.

Another lesson which might be learned from the recent election is that people who vote without having the necessary qualifications to entitle them to a vote, and those who vote for such voters, are taking big chances of getting into trouble after the election is over. It is especially dangerous in cases where the election results are close. In that case there is usually a recount when the ballots and voters' lists are scrutinized closely.

Speaking at the Canadian Daily Newspaper Association meeting at Toronto recently, E. W. Beatty, President of the C.P.R., said there is no class of worker more closely in touch with, or more severely injured by, the problems of the country's industrial life than the railway and newspaper workers. Each was building up the country as he served the actual needs of the community. Mr. Beatty was impressed by the universal willingness of the Canadian press to get behind appeals that must be made to the public on behalf of works of charity, civil benefits and education.

Professor Laird's Third Cross-Canada Tour

Professor Sinclair Laird, Dean of the School for Teachers, Macdonald College, makes his third annual tour "Across Canada and Back" with a party of Easterners leaving Toronto by Canadian Pacific Railway on July 13. Professor Laird's remarkable success with the two previous tours evoked such large demands for another of these "university" trips to the land of maple, peaks and purple mist that the third tour became a necessity, a national requirement.

A personal acquaintance with Canada's provinces is considered essential for every Canadian's education nowadays. Travel is a sound and continually increasing pleasure and efficiency. Nothing can take the place of the personal experience that comes through travel, leading educationalists the world over agree. In the minds of Canadian literature, history and geography, reading and teaching may be enhanced and brightened by personal familiarity after the subjects have been seen and admired.

Farther than vision ranges, Farther than eagle flights, Stretches the land of beauty, Arches the perfect sky, Hemmed through the purple mist after the trip to the West coast the Muskoka district, and the world-famous resort of Muskoka, Lake Superior is then skirted as far as Fort William, and thence to Winnipeg with a side trip to Winnipeg Beach, the Manitoban summer resort, and to Indian Head, Regina, Moose Jaw and Calgary where the Canadian Pacific Rockies are entered.

through the Gap, two almost vertical walls of dizzy height, streaked and rapped with snow and ice. Here we come to Banff, headquarters of the Rocky Mountains Park, a wonderful region of 2,000 square miles embracing rivers, lakes and noble mountain ranges.

From Banff to Windermere, 104 miles, the party under Professor Laird will go by automobile. Then from Windermere to Kamloops, through beautiful Kootenay Lake to Nelson. Leaving Nelson they head through the Doukhoboy country to Penticton, skirt Okanagan Lake, cross Fraser River at Hope and proceed to Vancouver. After two days at Vancouver the party sails to Victoria, affording an opportunity of seeing the famous Crystal Gardens.

Travelling back to the East the trip takes in the Fraser and Thompson River Canyons, and to the spectacular Lake Louise district. At the latter may be seen the white smoke of avalanches that go thundering down from the glacier four miles away. Lake Louise is about a mile and a quarter long and nearly half a mile wide. The Indians say the waters are distilled from neapoch's' falls and paved with mother-of-pearl, and into them pour these wild blue waters whose colors are mixed on the palette of the glaciers.

On the journey back East the trip is varied by calls at Edmonton and Saskatoon, while the awe-inspiring Devil's Gap near Kenora is also taken in. A full day is spent at each of these places. From Fort William the party embarks on a Canadian Pacific steamer on which they will visit Lake Superior and Huron to Port McNoll where a short trip to Toronto ends the journey.

While the trip is under the leadership of Professor Sinclair Laird it is by no means confined to travellers who belong to the travelling profession, and in former years a large proportion has been composed of people drawn from industrial, business and municipal circles who desire to increase in this pleasant and unique manner their acquaintance with the facts of their own country.

PRE-NATAL LETTERS AND ADVICE
The system of distribution of prenatal literature recently arranged by the Child Hygiene Section of the Canadian Council on Child Welfare, and the Provincial Health Departments of the various provinces has proved extremely successful. Upon application to the Provincial Department of Health or to the Canadian Council on Child Welfare at Ottawa, a series of pre-natal letters is forwarded regularly, free of charge. Applicants have been received from scattered outposts, far in the interior of the provinces, scores of miles from the railways and miles from a post office. Other applicants come from the large centres of population with well established health services, where doctors or nurses have advised their patients to avail themselves of the excellent literature available in these letters.

The letters have been prepared by an especially well qualified committee of medical men, and were distributed only after consultation with the Provincial Departments of Health. They are designed to contribute to the superb effort the Canadian people are making to reduce their infant and neonatal mortality rate, and to improve the whole average of infant health across the Dominion by earliest prenatal advice and information to the expectant mother in the home.

A letter to the Provincial Department of Health of your own province or to the Canadian Council on Child Welfare, Plaza Building Ottawa, will bring the letter service free.
